

Business Torts

We have extensive experience prosecuting and defending claims of unfair competition and trade secret misappropriation in high-technology and traditional manufacturing and service industries. We are experienced in enforcing agreements not to compete, and in resisting the enforcement of such agreements. We have represented former employers, new employers, and sales and technical employees. Our experience allows us to get "up to speed" quickly and economically, and take action before harm is done in the marketplace. We often negotiate settlements of these cases quickly and at low cost and where this is not possible, we aggressively represent our clients' interests through trial and appeal. We also provide preventive counsel in order to head off trade secret and non-compete claims.
