Lawrence M. Dudek specializes in commercial real estate litigation, including foreclosure, receivership, construction claims (defects, delays, impacts), secured loan workouts, lender liability defense, fraudulent conveyances and transfers.

"I am always looking for a business solution to achieve a resolution that will allow the parties to move forward, preserve a business relationship and minimize associated litigation cost and expense."

EXPERIENCE

Larry achieved a multimillion-dollar settlement of a highly contentious claim for breach of a letter of intent between two parties which had an ongoing business relationship. This was accomplished through effective use of a mediated process.

"As a result, I helped to preserve the goodwill in their business relationship without the need for litigation."
